

The transient→sustained TF-kernel width axis (denoised summary; replaces the noisy per-cell PETH heatmap)

A peak-aligned mean GLM kernel by width bin narrow (top) → broad (bottom): the response duration grows

B every cell = one point on the continuous width axis (spectrum, no gap);
broad-kernel cells couple more to the impulsive lick

